

Specialized Bicycles with Triad Shocks Supplement

Some Specialized bicycles feature a FOX Racing Shox Triad shock. The Triad has three on-the-fly suspension adjustment settings.

- 1) Fully locked out.
- 2) ProPedal for a more efficient ride.
- 3) Fully open and plush.

Generally, the locked out position is used for climbing and road riding, the ProPedal position is used for pedalling sections where a combination of compliance and efficiency is still needed and the fully open and plush position is used for descending.

Air pressure and sag should be set in the same manner as other FOX Racing Shox FLOAT shocks.
